

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A barrier region is provided in the active surface of a wafer-level chip scale package device or chip (WCSP device or chip) to substantially reduce the amount of photon-generated substrate current that reaches active circuitry within the active area of the chip.